

Sept. 9, 2021

Dear Members of the University Community

As we begin another academic year at The University of Scranton, we also look back on the work of the Board of Trustees over what was a busy winter and spring. The challenges arising during those seasons revealed the depth of character of this community, through good and challenging times. These notes cover several regular and special meeBTutni

