

Excellence in academic and professional competencies. Jesuit values. Successful outcomes. You'll find all of this – and more – when you choose The University of Scranton for your Master of Science in Clinical Rehabilitation Counseling degree. Our dedicated faculty will work alongside you as you pursue a higher level of education through our nationally accredited programs.

- Exposure to faculty with a wide range of experience and expertise.
- Seeks to train counseling professionals who are self-reflective practitioners, competent caregivers, and community leaders.
- Prepares students for work in a variety of settings including state rehabilitation agencies, comprehensive rehabilitation centers, universities settings, private-for-profit rehabilitation and insurance companies, substance abuse rehabilitation programs, correctional centers, mental health clinics, veterans administration centers, special education/transition programs, independent living centers, and many more.

Filling a Growing Need

According to the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook, faster than average growth will occur through at least 2024 in the fields of rehabilitation counseling, clinical mental health, marital and/or family difficulties, alcoholism, drug abuse and aging.

- Utilize skills taught and practiced in the classroom
- Find and experience theoretical practices
- Witness the healing power of the therapeutic process
- Facilitate dynamic learning and supervision
- Affirm choice of profession

More at: scranton.edu/hallcenter

Faculty Engagement

- Learn from an incomparable faculty comprised of skillful educators who pride themselves in their teaching, research and service.
- Gain practical knowledge from faculty who bring significant clinical work experiences to the classroom experience.
- Work with a faculty mentor who will assist with your personal academic planning throughout the program.

Results, reputation & ethics drive our education.

The University of Scranton's Rehabilitation Counseling Program is nationally accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), the accrediting body for the counseling profession.

Students graduating from our CACREP accredited program may take the National Certification Exam for Rehabilitation Counseling (CRC) and/or the National Counselor Exam (NCE) both of which are a step towards becoming a Licensed Professional Counselor in most states.

